

Biking base in Catalunya

A friend of mine has a small house to offer near Xerta, Terres de l'Ebre. That's in Spanish Catalunya - and reportedly a superb region for trail riders. Prices start at € 150 per week, which strikes me as more than fair. So I'm happy to link to his website (expat solidarity!).

A shot from the outside gives you a better idea of the terrain to expect - sadly, I don't have any trail pix from the area, but my imagination can feed on that mountain in the background. Bikers who want a picturesque, but authentic base with a good bed and wholesome food (optional evening meal for € 7) should also note that the Mediterranean is less than 50km away, which might help to keep the rest of the family happy.
